BRITAIN REJECTS NAZI PEACE

AMERICA SEEKING TO SAVE FINLAND

U. S. GOVERNMENT EXPRESSES HOPE OF SOVIET-FINN PEACE

AMERICAN MOVE MADE TO PREVENT OUTBREAK IN BALTIC SECTOR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12. (AP)—The American government, it was learned authoritatively today, is expressing to Soviet Russia its "earnest hope" that nothing may occur "to affect injuriously" peaceful relations between Russia and Finland.

It was also learned that the American move was an entirely independent action of the United States government.

Instructions covering the representations were sent to American Ambassador Laurence Steinhardt at Moscow.

An official statement by the department was expected to follow receipt of a report from Steinhardt that he had delivered the representations to the Russian government.

The American action apparently ruled out joint action by the United States, Norway, Sweden and Denmark on the Finnish situation. Dispatches from several Scandinavian capitals indicated their governments were also contemplating diplomatic steps at Moscow.

This is the second action taken by the state department with regard to Soviet Russia in the last 10 days.

The first was Secretary Hull's refusal to recognize the conquest of Poland as termed that nation the "victim of force used as an instrument of national policy." Without specifically naming them, he was referring to both Germany and Russia.

Hjalmar Procopé, Finnish minister to the United States, talked with a White House secretary yesterday, but did not disclose the nature of the conversations.

American participation in any diplomatic attempt to prevent a Baltic conflict might take various forms. President Roosevelt might issue a peace appeal to the Russian and Finnish heads of state, as he did to Adolf Hitler and the Polish president late in August.

The state department might reaffirm in a notice to Russia the United States' refusal to recognize the acquisition of territory by force. Secretary Hull last made such a statement after the conquest of Poland.

(Copyright, 1939, The Associated Press)

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 12. (AP)—A Netherland seaman on the German liner Bremen declared today the vessel reached Murmansk, North Russian port, after a thrilling voyage during which she flew the Soviet flag and preparations were made to destroy her rather than allow her to fall in British hands.

E. Post, a cook and only Netherland seaman on the Bremen when she sailed Aug. 30 from New York, told his story in a copyrighted interview with the Amsterdam newspaper Het Volk after his return to his native country.

Post said that after some days at sea he realized the Bremen was sailing far to the north, be-

DEVELOPMENTS IN EUROPEAN WAR

A heavy artillery battle along a 90-mile front from the Luxembourg border to Lauterbourg and German assaults on French lines tightening around Saarbrücken brought an end to the lull on the western front in Europe's war. In the North sea the British navy intensified its vigilance after German bombing raids on the blockading vessels. In the Baltic area, neutrals watched the approaching Russian-Finnish showdown anxiously. Sweden strengthened her defense forces. Finns were advised as a precaution to leave Helsinki, the capital. Thousands of Russian troops were lined up along the Estonian and Latvian border ready to occupy newly-acquired naval and air bases.

SENATOR LAFOLLETTE SAYS REPEAL MIGHT CRIPPLE DEFENSE

USUAL BACKER OF ADMINISTRATION SAYS WOULD BE WAR STEP

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12. (AP)—Senator LaFollette (Prog-Wis) told the senate today that repeal of the arms embargo, as proposed in the administration neutrality bill, might cripple the American defense program.

The Wisconsin senator, who usually supports Roosevelt legislation, asserted that complex domestic problems were being "relegated to the limbo of forgotten things" by what he described as a step toward partial participation in the European war.

Instead of taking this step, he argued, the United States should concentrate its efforts on building up in this hemisphere an economy which would provide stimulus for a sound business recovery.

LaFollette asserted that records of the munitions investigation committee showed that when this country went into the World War, it found its munitions plants tooled to turn out foreign products which the army considered inferior to our own.

"Experience may be repeated," he said, "this experience will most likely be repeated today if the embargo is repealed," he declared. "When we ourselves need arms, our factories will be tooled to produce foreign types of arms and munitions. We may find our plane plants tooled to make airplanes a year or two old instead of the most modern type. In short, repeal of the arms embargo may

GEORGIA SEEKING QUICK EXTRADITION RICHARD GALLOGLY

FUGITIVE COMPLAINT TO BE FILED AGAINST ESCAPED LIFE TERMER

AUSTIN, Oct. 12. (AP)—The State of Georgia today formally requested extradition of Richard E. Gallogly, escaped life-termer who surrendered to Dallas authorities Tuesday pleading for "Texas mercy."

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel did not immediately set a date for an extradition hearing, requested by Ellis Arnall, Georgia attorney general.

Arnall said he would immediately instruct his agents in Dallas to file a fugitive complaint against Gallogly. The Georgia attorney general was accompanied by J. Walter LeCraw, assistant solicitor general, and Capt. Dave Simmons of the Georgia Highway Patrol.

After a conference with Texas assistant attorneys general the Georgia officers said they understood Gallogly could be held in the north Texas city under the fugitive complaint.

Reuben Williams, the governor's secretary for extradition matters, said the Chief Executive had been informed of the request. He added he did not believe a hearing would be set until all attorneys, including counsel for the escapee, had been notified.

Confident of Favorable Action.

The Georgia law officer expressed confidence the chief executive would honor Georgia's request.

"We feel sure he or any other governor would not seek to retard the orderly process of law," Arnall said.

Gallogly's contention that he was a Texas justice, the attorney added, really meant that he wants "Texas freedom."

Arnall said his understanding of Texas law was that it was not necessary to swear out a fugitive warrant to detain Gallogly but it was planned "out of an abundance of precaution."

LeCraw said his state would

CHAMBERLAIN SAYS ONLY SETTLED PEACE CAN BE AGREED UPON

LONDON, Oct. 12. (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain told Adolf Hitler today he could have peace if he wanted it but it "must be a real and settled peace" and not that outlined by the German fuhrer in the reichstag last Friday.

Replying to Hitler's peace overtures Chamberlain, in his weekly war report to the house of commons, scorned "an uneasy truce interrupted by constant alarms and repeated threats."

He said the proposals of Hitler's speech were "vague and uncertain and contain no suggestion for righting the wrongs done to Czecho-Slovakia and Poland."

"The German government and the German government alone," Chamberlain declared, stands in the way of the "peace we are determined to secure."

The prime minister said that lacking "convincing proof" by definite acts and guarantees of Hitler's will for peace Britain and France "must persevere in our duty to the end."

When Chamberlain finished his comparatively brief declaration Clement R. Atlee, leader of the labor opposition, spoke in support.

Britain, Chamberlain declared, could not accept such a basis for peace as Hitler proposed "without forfeiting her honor."

Chamberlain said that even if Hitler's proposals contained suggestions for righting the wrongs of Poland and Czechoslovakia "it would still be necessary to ask by what practical means the German government intends to convince the world that aggressions will cease and that pledges will be kept."

Looking beyond the war, Chamberlain asserted, "whatever may be the issue of the present struggle and in whatever way it may be brought to a conclusion the world will not be the same world that we have known before."

Looking Beyond Victory.

The prime minister added: "We are not aiming only at victory, but rather looking beyond it to the laying of a foundation of a better international system which will mean that war is not to be the lot of every succeeding generation."

"It is for Germany to make her choice," he asserted, whether to continue the war or show she wants peace by fulfilling her obligations and the provision of effective guarantees that her undertakings will be carried out.

Chamberlain refrained from giving a specific statement on Hitler's war aims despite a widespread demand in some political quarters for such a statement.

Wants War Aims Defined.

This view was sought to the floor of the Commons by Sir Archibald Sinclair, Liberal leader, who expressed the hope the government would soon go further in defining its policy.

Sinclair said his own conditions for peace included the withdrawal of German troops from Czechoslovakia and Poland and letting Austria decide its destiny by plebiscite.

Chamberlain recounted the various peace efforts including those of President Roosevelt before Germany invaded Poland and added: "It is after this wanton act of aggression with his own insistence on the use of force that the German chancellor now puts forward his terms."

Meanwhile, Lloyd George, Britain's World War prime minister, continued to urge the "door to peace" be left open and announced his hope that the "Council of Action for Peace and Reconstruction" would be given tomorrow.

"We must take it that the proposal is a serious one," he said.

FINLAND PREPARED FOR WAR AS RESULT DEMANDS OF RUSSIA

DEFENSES STRENGTHENED AS NATION AWAITS RESULT MOSCOW CONFERENCE

HELSINKI, Oct. 12. (AP)—Foreign Minister Elias Erkkio expressed the hope today that no difficulties would arise between Finland and Soviet Russia in their Moscow negotiations but said there were "certain military rules which cannot be overlooked."

The foreign minister spoke in an interview a few hours before the conversations began in Moscow with Dr. Juho Kusti Paasikivi, representing Finland.

No demands have been put before us yet," he said. "We have been asked to exchange views and we have no reason to reject such a request. We would do the same for any other state."

He declined to discuss the diplomatic situation.

CHAMBERLAIN'S STATEMENT WELCOMED AS NEW EVIDENCE OF UNITY

PARIS, Oct. 12. (AP)—Premier Daladier today summoned his cabinet to meet tomorrow with President Albert Lebrun for a general review of the war.

Prime Minister Chamberlain's statement in the House of Commons was welcomed here as new evidence of unity between Britain and France against Adolf Hitler's peace proposals.

The French press singled out for attention Chamberlain's stand that Germany must give more effective guarantees before peace could be considered.

PARIS, Oct. 12. (AP)—German patrols battered French outposts today, continuing a series of thrusts reported to have cost the Nazis "hundreds" of casualties in the last three days without gaining "an inch of ground."

French advances, which told of "very hot" action in one unidentified sector during the night, said the latest assaults had been repulsed despite heavy preparation by German artillery.

At no point had the Germans been successful in attempts to take prisoners, according to these reports. The French entrenched in positions from which they raked the advancing Germans with machine gun fire, described their own losses as "light."

As the fighting increased in scope, with artillery thundering along the 100-mile front, the weather

SOVIET GOVERNMENT READY FOR FINNISH CONCESSION TALKS

FINLAND APPARENTLY TO BE TOUGHEST OF SMALL NATIONS FOR RUSSIA

MOSCOW, Oct. 12. (AP)—United States Ambassador Laurence A. Steinhardt called at the Kremlin today for a talk which reliable sources said urged Soviet Russia to refrain from making excessive demands on Finland.

It was understood Steinhardt asked Post-Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov not to aggravate the European war situation by such demands.

Steinhardt's visit came only two and a half hours before Finland's special envoy to Moscow, Dr. Juho Kusti Paasikivi, entered the Kremlin for a conference at Russia's behest. The Finnish representative remained in the Kremlin an hour. Finland was known to be hoping for American support, to ward off

IRONQUOIS PASSENGERS REPORT TORTUROUS TRIP AS RESULT OF STORM AND SINISTER RUMORS

NEW YORK, Oct. 12. (AP)—A terrific three-day storm and an ever-flowing stream of sinister rumors tortured 788 Americans—577 passengers and 211 crewmen—who reached New York last night on the liner Ironquois—the ship which the German admiralty warned would be sunk supposedly by an allied belligerent.

A blaze with lights, the 12-year-old vessel dropped anchor to the cheers of some 2,000 who had gathered to greet her.

Mrs. Mary Stieglman of Baltimore, one of the passengers, declared, "If ever there were a ship of horrors, this was it. The storm was so bad that some of the officers said they expected the top of the boat to blow off. Everyone was ill. Then, they started searching our baggage and wouldn't say what for."

"They made us go into the holds—dark, dirty holds—to identify our trunks. Some of us were so sick we couldn't go. When we told them we couldn't go, they told us they would smash our trunks open."

Several passengers agreed the most frightening of the speculations aboard ship was that a time bomb had been secreted some-where.

Even two United States destroyers which met the 394-foot ship Monday to form a convoy caused alarm at first, some passengers

GERMANY REACTION.

BERLIN, Oct. 12. (AP)—Authoritative German quarters said today they considered the fact that the refugee ship Ironquois reached New York safely was "proof that the German navy's fraternal attitude toward America had wielded a 100 per cent success."

Grand Admiral Erich Raeder, commander-in-chief of the German navy, had warned the United States government that the Ironquois would be torpedoed.

Hitler, Ribbentrop Study Translation Chamberlain Talk

BERLIN, Oct. 12. (AP)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler and his foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop studied together tonight a translation of Prime Minister Chamberlain's speech in the House of Commons.

Germans anxiously awaited the fuhrer's appraisal of the British reply to his peace offer of last Friday and a sign of the next move to be made in the European war.

The first German reaction to Prime Minister Chamberlain's speech in the House of Commons was epitomized in the words of informed circles:

"This statement, like Daladier's (Premier Daladier of France) is neither fish nor flesh."

This oft-used German proverb is equivalent to the American expression of "straddling."

BERLIN, Oct. 12. (AP)—While Germany's war chiefs shared their plans today on the presumption the war must run its course, diplomatic circles waited for a hint and, possibly, a conclusive answer from London on Adolf Hitler's conditions for peace.

Germany must have British Prime Minister Chamberlain's comment today to the House of Commons, political commentators said, before deciding whether Hitler's

MACKENZIE REVIEWS REPLY OF CHAMBERLAIN TO HITLER AND ELUCIDATES WAR SITUATION

By DEWITT MACKENZIE (Associated Press Writer.)

British Prime Minister Chamberlain rejected Nazi leader, Hitler's, peace proposals today, as did French Premier Daladier Tuesday.

Mr. Chamberlain however said in effect that Germany could have peace if it made proper reparations with sufficient guarantees for future good conduct.

In other words, while he found no basis for peace discussions in the Nazi fuhrer's terms, the door was still open if Hitler would climb down far enough.

These words seem to be the essential points he made in addressing the House of Commons.

It is impossible for England to accept such a basis for peace as Hitler proposed "without forfeiting her honor."

"It is no longer possible to rely upon the unsupported word of the present German government."

"Either the German government must give convincing proof of sincerity of their desire for peace by definite acts and by the provision of effective guarantees of their intention to fulfill their undertakings or we must persevere in our duty to the end."

By "definite acts," the premier presumably was demanding that Germany, for one thing, withdraw from Poland.

There was indication, too, that he had German reparations to Czechoslovakia in mind, since he asserted that Hitler's proposals were "vague and uncertain and contain no suggestions for righting the wrongs done to Czechoslovakia and Poland."

But even had Hitler made proposals for righting the wrongs of these two countries, continued Chamberlain, "it would still be necessary to ask what practical means the German government intends to convince the world that aggressions will cease and that pledges will be kept."

"There was no indication of that 'practical means' Mr. Chamberlain had in mind. It might be many things, including the forced repatriation of Hitler, since the Anglo-French allies have repeatedly said

The local instructor reports the degree received was the first of four in the Future Farmers work, and that the boys must study vocational agriculture at least a year before an application would be considered for the next degree adding each degree was more difficult to attain. ## PREMIER DALADIER ACCUSED HITLER OF BREAKING PROMISES SAYS FRANCE WILL FIGHT UNTIL WORLD HAS CER- TAIN PEACE

PARIS, Oct. 10.—(P)—Premier Daladier, in a radio speech broadcast to the French nation, tonight accused Adolf Hitler of repeatedly breaking promises and said the French would not lay down their arms "until the world had certain peace."

Neither France nor Great Britain has embarked on any war of conquest," the premier said, "they accepted that war because Germany wanted to impose domination of Europe, and France offers now is one of peace and violence. There will, however, be a real peace in the future."

In his audience of the German conquest of Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland, Daladier declared, Hitler had asserted that he would not lay down his arms until the world had certain peace. Daladier's address was an answer to Hitler's peace proposals of last Friday.

Every six months Germany makes new territorial demands and then says she is satisfied.

"Far from bringing about a reduction of armament this system makes other nations increase their armament."

"In order to bring about a lasting peace we must fight against the abuses of force."

"A security of nations can come about only by mutual understanding devoid of all surprises."

"Does Not Bring Happiness."

"The time has passed when a territorial conquest brings happiness to people."

"Wars bring about bread and food cards, and our eating is limited. France holds in horror such servitude."

"I affirm again solemnly that we are fighting and still continue to fight until we obtain a guarantee of peace."

"If we called for peace now and then in six months sent our men back to the lines under the bombardment of German planes, no Frenchman would pardon us."

"The German soldiers in the trenches must be saying to themselves: 'Perhaps our government opposed Versailles, but our government has also taken Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland. The cause which the French soldiers are defending is a just cause, and one of which they are proud.'"

"The French government will show itself worthy of the confidence extended to it by all of its sons."

French Turn Back New German Thrusts

PARIS, Oct. 10.—(P)—French troops were reported today to have turned back numerous German assaults south of the strategic city of Saarbrücken with hand grenades and rifle fire.

The Nazi thrusts, these reports indicated, apparently were aimed at breaking French lines lighting on three axes of Saarbrücken. German raiding parties also sought to take prisoners to obtain information on French advance positions, it was said.

In both objectives, French dispatches said, the Germans failed.

The Germans were said to have fought desperately before retreating under a raking fire. Saarbrücken, rich German industrial city around which the operations centered, is near the middle of the northern front.

A heavy artillery battle, launched by the Germans Sunday and answered by French batteries in a 90 mile sector from the Luxembourg border to L'Arbre, provided a background for the action.

These reports of the fighting were contained in a communiqué issued this morning by the

NEUTRALITY

mean a crippling of our national defense program."

He continued:

"There is a great temptation for people weary of the struggle against the domestic economic crisis to find escape in the war crisis in Europe."

"Unemployment, farm prices, mortgage foreclosures, idle capital, idle plant capacity are no longer topics of chief concern. There are ominous suggestions that a war boom would help to solve our problems. Even the president's message on the neutrality issue was not free from this taint. In this direction lies disaster. In large measure the problems we face today are due to the distortion of our entire economic life produced by the last war."

Repudiates Idea.

"I repudiate the idea that we cannot solve our problems here at home without resort to the stimulus to business brought about by the wholesale slaughter of human beings in Europe."

"LaFollette proposed, as 'constructive alternative,' that the United States devote some of its resources to raising the standard of living in Latin American countries."

"Our financial assistance for this purpose would make possible an increased demand for American exports, incidentally helping to secure full employment," he predicted.

Discussing the consequences of involvement of this country in the European conflict, he asserted that it would kill democracy here, destroy the conservation of labor, in general suspension of civil liberties, ruin the nation's economy, and leave the United States in the grip of a permanent dictatorship.

Criticizes Shipping Provisions.

Chairman Bailey (D-NC) of the senate commerce committee declared today that shipping provisions of the administration's neutrality bill would disrupt American commerce and "destroy much of the American merchant marine."

Chairman Pittman (D-Nev) of the foreign relations committee put the statement in the senate record at the opening of today's session. Pittman said that although he did not agree with Bailey's estimate of potential losses to shipping, he considered it an able statement.

Senator Bulow (D-SD) opened the eighth day of debate on the French general staff, which said that "enemy patrols are still very active, notably east and west of the line."

The communiqué noted "reciprocal artillery action in the same regions."

Moving Up Reinforcements.

Both German and German reinforcements were reported moving up additional munitions, men and equipment as Premier Daladier put the finishing touches on the radio speech he will deliver at 8 p. m. (CST) in reply to Adolf Hitler's peace proposals.

While reports from the front indicated the Germans were gradually employing larger units in assaults in the Saarbrücken sector, French observers said it was impossible to say whether the increased Nazi activity was a prelude to a major offensive.

These observers pointed out that the Germans plan a large scale operation they must be undertaken swiftly, because of good weather can be expected.

From the general tone of the press it appeared that the French would be content to hold gains they already have made and let winter and the British naval blockade take their courses.

There apparently was wide belief that the Germans must score some sort of victory before winter sets in to bolster the morale of the troops and create a favorable impression at home.

Signed Peace Letter.

PARIS, Oct. 10.—(P)—An investigating judge today charged former air minister, "Ariel" Deat, with having signed a peace at any price letter circulated recently in the chamber of deputies.

Deat told the court his "good faith" had been taken by surprise when he was told to sign the letter.

neutrality bill with the argument that a desire on the part of some people to profit on munitions sales was partly responsible for efforts to repeal the arm embargo.

Yesterday's floor debate saw two leaders in the fight against the Roosevelt count bill two years ago take opposite sides in the embargo scrap. They were Senators Burke (D-Neb) and Clark (D-Mo).

Burke, replying to Clark's contention that many advocates of repeal felt it was a "safe choosing of sides," declared he saw no justification on any ground for repealing the law to stand that favors Hitler.

"By hampering the allies in their prosecution of the war," he said, "the embargo favors Germany to the certain extent of prolonging the war for many months, if not years."

Senator White (R-Maine), who had been counted in administration polls as favoring repeal, told the senate he was reserving judgment to see the bill in final form.

Criticizing the proposed restrictions on shipping, White said the bill would replace the arms embargo with more onerous restrictions upon our ancient rights of free shipment.

"It speaks in terms of cowardly abandonment of rights," he said, "a surrender without precedent to this time in history."

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who recently advocated in a radio speech that the United States remain aloof from the war, will deliver a second address on neutrality Friday at 8:30 p. m. Central Standard time over the Mutual Broadcasting System.

Rep. Johnson Warns of War.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—(P)—Rep. Luther Johnson (D-Tex) warned the house today that "if the present neutrality law is not changed, the United States is certain to be in this war, and that within a short time."

He said the record of 26 American ships sunk by Germany during the World War showed that it's not the sale of commodities that gets us into war, it's their transportation and delivery.

He added that if congress had repealed the arms embargo earlier this year there might have been no war now.

Hull Sees No U. S. War.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—(P)—It is Secretary Hull's firm belief the United States will maintain its neutrality and steer clear of the European war.

In a speech to the 26th annual foreign trade convention last night he said twenty-one American republics are determined not to be engaged in the conflict and are doing everything possible to preserve their neutrality.

Third Test Now Drilling In New Bazette Section

Active drilling on the Topaz Oil company and Butler-Calhoun No. 3 Tract in the newly designated Bazette field was started Tuesday night after surface pipe had been set Monday. Completion is expected over the week-end or early next week.

The No. 3 location is 650 feet south 30 degrees west of the No. 2 well. Both the other producers on the Kyser survey are now running oil to the Humble pipeline which crosses the lease. Present allowables are reported at 50 barrels per well, following the rule adopted at a recent railroad commission hearing which gave new fields the same production as the nearest production area to them. The Navarro county acreage was also officially designated as a new field and assigned the name Bazette, long familiar in Central Texas oil explorations.

MACKENZIE

that they are out to "crush Hitlerism."

While Chamberlain was speaking Germany's own chiefs were shaping their plans on the assumption that the war must run its course, since they anticipated a negative reply from London to the peace proposals.

Storm clouds hung over the Baltic today as the Finnish envoys went into conference with Soviet authorities at Moscow to learn what Russia seeks from Finland after having established virtual protectorates over neighboring Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania.

Sturdy little Finland prepared to fight against territorial demands. Her menfolk sent their women and children from the cities into the greater safety of the countryside, and then stood by their arms.

A serious was the situation regarded that the United States government decided to take action calculated to avert a Russo-Finnish crisis.

Washington is expressing to Soviet Russia its "earnest hope" that nothing may occur "to affect injuriously" peaceful relations between Russia and Finland.

Norway, Sweden and Denmark also were said to be prepared to move for peace.

In view of the news from Washington one can't refrain from mentioning how Finland refused to permit her war-debt instalments to America even in the hardest days of the depression. Maybe those debt payments will prove to have been bread upon the waters.

The astonishing manner in which Soviet Russia is extending its domination westward, into what Germany has considered preserves, entitles one to wonder just who inaugurates the Nazi-communist amenities which started all this.

Was it Nazi Fuehrer, Hitler, who asked Communist Leader Stalin to have a drink, or was it Stalin who beckoned Hitler to rest his foot on the rail? And was the one who extended the invitation wearing a gun?

"The only thing we know is that whoever ordered the drink, Hitler would seem to have paid for them thus far."

The question of who made the first move isn't trivial. If we could let the war be decided by chance compulsion was used by either side to create the Russo-German anti-aggression pact which preceded the partition of Poland.

It would be a much better guess as to who (if anybody) will win the war. It certainly would be easier to see where Germany is going to wind up.

In any event, the big winner up to this time is Stalin. It is highly interesting to note the trade agreement announced yesterday between Russia and England. Whether this in any way supports the idea that Moscow is playing both ends against the middle remains to be seen.

As regards the underlying feeling between Russia and Germany—so hostile to each other until recently—the consensus of Europe, outside of those two

WAR BRIEFS

City Fined by Itself.

PLYMOUTH, Oct. 12.—(P)—The City of Plymouth was ordered to pay a fine of two pounds (about $8) to itself today for failure to blackout the guildhall.

The magistrate who imposed the fine said it was merely taking money out of one pocket and putting it in another, but the conviction would be on the record at any rate.

New Italian Ambassador.

ROME, Oct. 12.—(P)—Giuseppe Bastianini, new Italian ambassador to London, left by train today to assume his post.

(A Reuters, British news agency dispatch, from Rome said Bastianini was understood to be bearing a communication of Italy's views on proposals for ending the war and for calling an international conference.)

Saw Plane-Sea Battle.

ALBANY, N.Y., Oct. 12.—(P)—A Norwegian fishing boat skipper asserted today that he was trapped in the midst of an hour and a half North Sea naval battle Monday afternoon between five British warships and about 150 German planes.

The captain of the fishing boat Kvaloy said bombs dropped on all sides and the crew, fearing their ship would be sent to the bottom, prepared to take to the lifeboats. He said his crew could see that neither ships nor planes were hit, but after the warships steamed away they heard an explosion and saw a fire column on the horizon.

(Both the German and British admiralties reported a North Sea engagement Monday between planes and warships. The Germans asserted their bombers scored 10 direct hits, but the British contended there was no damage.)

FINLAND

matio activity reported progressing in other capitals but said Finland, "of course" had communicated with other nations in regard to the situation.

Erkko referred to the removal of women and children into the country and other actions as "precautionary measures" similar to what all neutral nations had taken.

There are increasing numbers of civil guards on the streets, border fortifications have been strengthened and preparations have been made for air raid protection, including the construction of dug-outs.

"Modern neutrality is active neutrality," he said.

"If a neutral cannot defend itself against threats then it is no longer neutral and independent."

"I hope nothing will happen and I am convinced that the Russian government does not want anything to happen any more than we do."

The speed with which the nation's affairs were being put in order for a possible emergency supported the declarations in responsible Finnish sources that the nation would oppose military and economic agreements such as its Baltic neighbors yielded and, if necessary, would resist.

Commentators stressed Finland's membership in the so-called "neutrality bloc" of northern states and the Helsinki newspaper Uusi-Suomi declared:

"Any attempt to force us to give up our neutral positions and force us into some kind of new political scheme will receive an absolute and uncompromising resistance."

"That sort of kowtowing positions which the Baltic countries have been put into is absolutely out of the question here."

countries, would appear to favor the idea that the state is no longer lost between them despite outward appearances. Many observers look for a decisive showdown between them ultimately, possibly at the end of the war, the trend of which Moscow will be able to influence greatly, if present signs read true.

AMERICAN ARMY TO BE SUPPLIED SOON WITH BEST RIFLE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(P)—Doughboys of the regular army and national guard soon will be supplied with the "world's best shoulder rifle," the new Garand semi-automatic M-1, at the rate of 400 a day.

An $8,710,000 order for 65,000 of the weapons was given a commercial arms plant by the war department yesterday to supplement the expanding output of the Springfield, Mass., arsenal.

Twenty months hence, under present schedules, some 168,000 infantrymen will be armed with the rifle. No other army has a rifle comparing in deadliness with this weapon, ordnance experts said. The Garand fires a clip of eight bullets one or more a second before reloading.

At the same time, President Roosevelt disclosed administration plans for building the army up to a force of about 600,000, including the regular troops, the national guard and reserve officers. He told reporters, however, that the nation's armed forces already approach that figure.

The war department announced also a $6,963,292 order for warplanes, including a new 1,500 horsepower plant, medium bombers which were officially described as one of the world's most powerful.

An undisclosed number of 1,000 horsepower motors ordered at the same time will power an improved Boeing four-motor bomber.

Republican Senator Supporting Repeal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(P)—Senator Austin (R-Vt.) described the administration neutrality bill today as "an act of self defense because it is designed to aid Great Britain and France."

"We must do everything we can to hasten the victory of the allies," he told reporters. "We do not need to ask whether this bill is neutral. We only need to know that it's an act of self defense."

"In order to protect our interests, we must make it possible for Great Britain and France to get supplies. That may be regarded as selfishness on our part, but at the same time it can be patriotic."

Austin, assistant minority leader, is one of a half dozen republican senators supporting the administration measure.

Austin expressed his views shortly before the senate began the sixth day of neutrality debate. The chamber agreed to vote at 3 p. m. (CST) on a motion by Senator Tobey (R-N. H.) to divide the bill into two parts.

Tobey wants quick action on the provisions which would prevent American shipping and travel in danger zones, with later discussion on the controversial arms embargo section.

Administration forces opposed Tobey's proposal. They claimed more than 60 votes for the entire bill, and received public support today from Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.).

Bankhead told reporters the measure "will do more than anything else to keep us out of war."

"I'm for the bill," he added.

GERMANY

offer should be regarded as accepted or rejected.

If the British statement were characterized by the "vagueness" which Germans have attributed to French Premier Daladier's radio address Tuesday, they said, it would have to be the subject of close scrutiny by Hitler and his advisers.

They pointed out that there had been a considerable change in the German attitude toward Daladier's demand for a "guarantee of security." First reactions, they said, were more favorable than judgments reached after careful study of the address.

Hitler's Voelkischer Beobachter, commenting on the French premier's address, called it too general to be regarded as a final answer to the feint.

German naval authorities, meanwhile, were not waiting for the slow processes of diplomacy to reach a conclusion.

A German Campaign Started.

A German campaign in the North Sea appeared already under way with the Nazi command increasingly confident its air and sea forces would be able to make matters unfavorable to the British navy.

Dore, official German news agency, published a commentary by experts asserting that German warships are masters of the North Sea.

This followed an order for the air force to unleash its power against the British at sea, an order described by an official as "one of the most important announcements since the Polish war ended."

DNE, expanding on a report by naval authorities that several British warships had been damaged in a North Sea battle Monday between British surface craft and German submarines, declared no doubt remained that the east and north coasts of the British Isles were within range of German bombers. The account of the sea battle acknowledged that four German planes had not returned after bases but declared that German observers had counted six direct hits on British warships by bombs weighing more than 1,000 pounds and four by lighter bombs.

don't see why we shouldn't aid Great Britain and France."

Administration circles were a fighting a motion by Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) to recess the senate for three days in order to give President Roosevelt a free hand to negotiate an European peace.

Many Enlistments.

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 12.—(P)—An average of 350 men are being enlisted daily within the El Paso area during the current recruiting drive, army officials at Fort Sam Houston said today. The quota for the corps area is 17,000 men with the deadline for the drive set for Nov. 12.

VEGETABLE QUOTAS NOT DESIGNED CUT ACREAGE IN TEXAS

NAVARRO COUNTY PLANT- ERS SCHEDULED TO GET ALLOTMENTS SHORTLY

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 12.—(Spl.)—Commercial vegetable allotments, designed not to reduce acreage but to slow down further expansion, will be necessary in 43 Texas counties in 1940, George Slaughter, chairman of the state agricultural conservation committee, has announced.

Allotments have already been mailed to Love Oak, Jim Wells, Kleberg, Hidalgo, Willacy, Cameron and San Patricio counties. Slaughter said, and he predicted the remaining 37 counties would receive their allotments by October 20.

Other counties for which allotments are being set up include Anderson, Atascosa, Bee, Bexar, Brooks, Cherokee, Collin, Dallas, Dimmit, Duval, Ellis, Fannin, Fort Bend, Frio, Galveston, Harris, Henderson, Houston, H u n t, Karnes, Kaufman, LaSalle, Limestone, Maverick, Medina, Navarro, Nueces, Real, Rockwall, Smith, Tarrant, Van Zandt, Webb, Wharton, Wilson and Zavala.

Two methods of setting up county allotments were available. Slaughter said, namely the "Texas method" and the regular method. Special Valley Plan.

Pushed by the valley growers, the Texas method is designed especially for Valley counties, setting a county limit of not less than 90 per cent of the 1939 vegetable acreage.

The remaining 10 per cent can be used as a reserve by the county committee, provided the 1939 acreage of commercial vegetables for the county does not exceed the 1938-37 average acreage of commercial vegetables for the county. If it does exceed the average, then the county gets as a reserve the difference between 90 per cent of the 1939 acreage and the 1938-37 average acreage.

Under the regular method, the county allotment will be the 1936 and 1937 average acreage of commercial vegetable production during the last four years from 1930 to 1939. Tentative rates of payment have been set, Slaughter said. Under present plans, the co-operating

Homecoming Day Weatherford Junior College on Saturday

WEATHERFORD, Oct. 12.—(Spl.)—The Weatherford College, a Methodist junior college of the Central Texas Conference, of which G. C. Boswell, a Navarro county boy, is president, will observe Homecoming Day Saturday, October 14th, with the following program:

8:00 p. m.—Homecoming Address in the college auditorium.
4:00 p. m.—Business session in the auditorium.
6:00 p. m.—Free barbecue on the campus.
8:00 p. m.—Football game—W. C. vs. Hillsboro. This should be the best game of the season.

All exes are urged to attend this home coming day program, enjoy a fine day and the fellowship. L. A. Allison is chairman of the home coming committee.

UNITED CHARITIES SEEKS VOLUNTEERS TO DRESS DOLLS

An earnest appeal by the United Charities to the general public was made today for volunteers to dress dolls and help put them in readiness for the coming Christmas season.

Mrs. Augusta Helm, secretary, stated that the Charity was beginning well in advance of the Christmas season to prepare the toys and to obtain as many as possible. She urged those who have dolls and are planning to give them to the Charity to do so as soon as possible in order that they can be sent to the doll hospital in Dallas for repairs. She also urged those individuals or groups interested in dressing the dolls to contact her as soon as possible.

farmer will receive $1.50 for each acre of his vegetable allotment and 70 cents will be added to his soil-building allowance for each acre of the vegetable allotment. In addition, he will continue to receive his regular cotton payments if he is co-operating in the cotton program. No payments for general crops will be made where vegetable allotments are set up, Slaughter said.

A penalty of $20 per acre for each acre overplanted has been tentatively set, Slaughter said, but he pointed out that penalty could not exceed the total payments.

"If a vegetable farmer overplants, he might be penalized $20 per acre," he explained. "But if the penalties total more than his payments, he just won't get any payments. He won't have to dig down into his pocket to pay any fine on his production."

AMERICAN ROYAL LIVESTOCK AND HORSE SHOW DATES

GREAT NATIONAL LIVESTOCK EVENT OPENS SATURDAY IN KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 12.—(Spl.)—Kansas City will be the most livestock conscious city in the nation when the American Royal Livestock and Horse Show opens its doors October 14 for the forty-first consecutive year to present a pageant of progress in the livestock world and a gala week of entertainment features.

Sleek hogs, marbled cattle, manicured lambs, proud horses, sweet-dispositioned mules, and strutting poultry will descend on the American Royal building from twenty-two states to compete for over $68,000 in premiums.

The line-up for show horses is exceptionally good. A revival in show horse interest, manifested in shows in small towns, has built up this year's entry list. Outstanding horses from the leading stables of the nation will compete at sixteen performances.

Unusual interest in junior division activities is being evidenced by inquiries from 4-H club and vocational agricultural leaders in all parts of the country. Over 10,000 boys and girls from every state are expected to participate either at conventions held with the show or in the exhibiting of calves, hogs and lambs and competing in judges contests.

Added attractions this year include the American Royal Queen contest in which girls from seven states will compete, the Coronation Ball with Bob Crosby's famous orchestra and the internationally known society hostess, Elsa Maxwell, the huge downtown parade, the colorful Second Cavalry Dragoon Platoon, junior rodeo acts and many other entertainment features.

In the entire eight-day show, forty judges will appraise 500 classes, comprising 500 head of purebred cattle, 2,500 cattle in the carlot fat and feeder, cattle show, 250 head of draft horses, 125 mules, 800 hogs, 450 sheep, 1,000 poultry entries, and 600 calves, pigs and lambs entered in the junior show, and 400 horses in the horse show.

CORSICANA, TEX., OCT. 13, 1939

SELF-DEPENDENCE

Most Americans feel today that it is greatly to our own interest to co-operate with the British Empire in all reasonable ways. But this doesn't necessarily mean fighting along-side of them. An American newspaper man, William F. McDermott, who has traveled and observed widely throughout the world, writes:

"The British Empire is in a state of flux and evolution. If our national safety depends on the maintenance of the long, thin line of imperial interests, we are in a bad way.

"I do not believe we are as weak as all that. Let us look to our own, build up our own defenses, use our own strength to such ends as seem necessary and just, helping our friends where we can, but determined to survive regardless of any other power on earth."

INSOMNIA CURES

Dr. Louis J. Karnosh, physician and psychiatrist of Cleveland, O., says sheep-counting hampers rather than aids sleep. In an article in the Journal of the American Medical Association he advises against this and similar methods often advocated as sleep-inducers. Most of them are merely tricks for the repression of unpleasant ideas, he explains. They may change the line of thought, but if they require concentrated thinking they keep the person using them awake.

"The person with insomnia," according to Dr. Karnosh, "should be told to lie down, to let his muscles relax if he can, to let his thoughts wander where they will and to avoid the exercise of any sort of concentration or volition."

All that, a layman might add, is more easily advised than practiced. A nervous person, trying frantically to relax, gets nowhere fast. Let's have some information about how this may be done. Stretching arms and legs and body muscles is helpful. So, too, is rolling the eyes as far as possible from side to side. A regular retiring hour and a glass of warm milk are other aids.

It's great comfort to some insomnia victims to get the idea that quietly lying awake in the dark in bed isn't fatal, after all. Almost anybody can get through one day's work after a bad night. And, often no sooner does that happy thought take hold than the sleepless one drops off to sleep.

CIVILIAN SPY-HUNTERS

The sheriff of Kings County, N. Y., has announced the formation of a civilian group to combat subversive activities in Brooklyn. It is said that more than 3,000 persons have applied for membership in this body.

Their duty will be to report subversive meetings to the sheriff's office or to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The group that attended the first meeting of this volunteer organization included civic leaders, business executives, representatives of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, volunteer firemen and members of the police reserve. Membership is open to all citizens of Brooklyn regardless of race, color, creed or sex.

Here is an obviously well-intentioned movement, but one which needs to be directed with the greatest

BROWDER EXPLAINS EUROPE

An ordinary reader and thinker not interested much in any ideology but the common American variety, may be puzzled by the explanation of recent events given by Earl Browder, head of the Communist Party.

This authority, in an interview, was explaining the situation in Europe, the relation of the American Communist Party to the Russian Communist Party, and so on. He approved the Russian invasion of Poland because it was "a rescue expedition" which "saved the oppressed Polish minorities from the nightmare of Nazi domination."

Many Americans regard Nazi domination of other races as a nightmare, but it wouldn't have occurred to most of us to seek the Stalin brand of salvation. Russia, to be sure, has taken back some Russians who may now be satisfied. But how about the millions of Ukrainians who don't want Communism? And especially how about the millions of Poles that Russia has annexed?

"The issue is not so clear now," says Mr. Browder modestly. "In this war America should not take sides. We should evaluate the two sides as rival imperialisms struggling to control the world."

Two imperialisms? We thought there were three. How about Russia? Americans are more concerned about that than they are about the mild and tolerant sway of the British Empire, most of whose members are still free to do as they please.

GAINS IN NORMAL BUSINESS

A famous concern manufacturing machine tools has experienced a sharp rise in demand for its products since the outbreak of the present European war. It has had to purchase more than $200,000 worth of new equipment in order to speed up its own work.

Oddly enough, however, the greatest increase in orders has come not from war business but from the demand of "domestic manufacturers of peacetime products." There has been a sharp upturn, for example, in such fields as electrical equipment, printing machinery, plumbing supply and "other industries supplying the normal needs of the country."

This is so much to the good. It is a pity, however, that we had to wait, in so many lines, for war fears to spur us to activity for our own progress and prosperity.

The sheriff has cautioned members not to be "snoopers," but no clear definition seems to have been given of a "subversive meeting." A vigilante group may go too far and enthusiastic patriots exceed instructions when the instructions are so vague.

It is as important to protect the Bill of Rights as to catch and punish "subversive" residents of a community. Let's not lose our heads in misguided patriotic activities.

The American Legion paraded in Chicago for 12 hours and 25 minutes, proving that the boys are still fit. The bystanders, likewise.

Many a radio hound, fishing with the short waves, wonders how many years it will be till he gets some sleep.

EVOLUTION OF THE EUROPEAN "POWDER KEG"*FUN AT CONCERTS

"A lot of people who go to symphonies don't know what is going on and are thinking about other things," says a music critic. There's nothing wrong in that, he thinks, provided they go to the concert from choice and like to do their thinking to music.

This critic advocates a less serious approach to music generally. It's really a delight, not a chore, he says, though too often American audiences go about it as if it were the latter.

These suggestions do not come as something quite new in the world of music. The light approach to good music has already been made in a number of ways and places. Summer concerts in parks in several American cities have achieved great popularity without sacrificing musical quality in program or performance.

Last summer one city had a music season of a dozen concerts played by a fine symphony orchestra in a public auditorium equipped with tables and chairs instead of the usual conventional rows of seats. Waitresses served refreshments while the orchestra played. Patrons were permitted to smoke or chat if they wished, and no one glared at them for doing so. As a matter of fact, the audience was quiet and appreciative. Men who had shied away from symphony concerts for years said, "Why didn't they do something like this long ago? This is great!"

WAR FUEL

It is not guns but gasoline that will win this war, says Dr. Gustav Egloff, research director for an American oil products company. And that is where Germany is out of luck. For she lacks high-grade gas. Her doom will be told, he suggests, by the knocking of her airplane motors.

That peril comes from a factor which the Germans have been used to representing as a war safety factor—their manufacture of artificial gasoline on a big scale from coal. This product, Dr. Egloff explains, is much inferior to gasoline made from minerals. It diminishes the speed and carrying power of planes and reduces their life span.

Anti-knock qualities are measured in "octanes." Britain and France have fuel which rates at 100 octanes, made from Persian gasoline. The best Germany has been able to produce is a 75-octane gas, with one-third less power output,

BLACK-OUT TRAFFIC RULES

The London police have had to issue special traffic rules to meet new conditions. Since the nightly black-outs began deaths and injuries from street accidents have tripled.

The new rules or suggestions remind people leaving a lighted room to pause until their eyes become accustomed to the darkness. They recommend light-colored clothing and gloves and add that a newspaper in the hands helps visibility. More widespread use of the carefully marked cross-walks is urged.

People at movies—many of which have received permission to re-open—are advised, by words thrown on the screen, that they are safer in the building than in the streets during an air raid. Also that they should carry their gas masks at all times and that further instructions will be given in case of emergency.

Perhaps men and women will heed such special warnings better than they do the routine traffic rules of normal times. If they don't, the black-outs are going to cause a heavy toll of human life even without the added disaster of air-raids.

one-fourth less lifting power and one-fifth less speed. Thus the Nazis airmen might have better planes than their enemies and yet lose in the air.

Americans will want to know how our own gasoline stacks up in this respect. It's the best in the world, and we have it in great abundance.

It's a good idea to be neutral in act, and in word, but there's no law against thinking.

FULL COOPERATION PROMISED GOVERNOR BY JAMES E. TAYLOR*INDICATES BELIEF LITTLE BE ACCOMPLISHED BY SPECIAL SESSION

Although indicating a belief that a special session would accomplish little more than the extended regular session, James E. Taylor of Kerens, representative from the 58th district of Navarro county, informed Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel he would co-operate to the fullest extent in a letter to the chief executive made public late Monday.

Portions of the letter follow: "As you will recall, I was chairman of the house-subcommittee appointed to redraft Senate Joint Resolution No. 12 and presented the measure to the house on May 2, 1939, after it had been favorably reported by the entire committee on constitutional amendments."

"It is my opinion that this measure is the most equitable as well as the most adequate presented to the regular session of the 46th legislature to finance social security obligations of the state."

"It imposes no burden upon any group of individuals nor does it penalize any industry unfairly. The measure submitted to the house will raise sufficient revenue to pay all the social security obligations now authorized to be paid citizens of Texas, including aid for the blind, dependent children, teacher retirement benefits, and old age pensions, x x x"

Details of the plan and the annual tax payments according to similar levies in other states are then presented by Mr. Taylor.

The letter concludes: "Knowing the temper of the members of the Legislature as I do and feeling confident that it will continue, as they have in the past, to let personal desires defeat the major purposes of adequately financing social security obligations, I feel confident now as I did at that time of the regular session that a special session of the 46th legislature at this time would accomplish little more than the recent 163-day session."

However, in view of the tremendous importance of this problem and the urgent necessity of financing at least temporarily these social security services, I am willing at this time, as I have always been in the past, to co-operate with you in any attempt to satisfactorily solve the problem of adequately financing this program."

GOOD RAIN FALLS OVER COUNTY; FIRST SINCE JULY 1ST

A slow, steady rain amounting to 1.22 inches fell in Corsicana Monday night. The rain was general over the county and furnished some much needed moisture for plowing and planting fall oats. The rain, however, was not sufficient to furnish stock water except in scattered sections.

The rain was the first general one of any consequence since July 1 when .97 of an inch fell. A slight drop in temperature accompanied the rain, the minimum temperature registered during the night being 62, two degrees below the previous low of 64.

INSULIN - the Stoker

INSULIN is a ferment-like substance manufactured in the pancreas, which normally acts as a "stoker" in utilizing the sugar-fuel of the body.

Insulin has made diabetes "controllable," but the earlier detected the more easily controlled.

When this chemical "factory" body of ours harbors a slacker pancreatic system, then sugar that should be converted into fuel and energy remains in the blood, in raw or "unburned" state, and is finally thrown off by the kidneys. This excessive sugar has a degenerative action on some of the important organs, and leaves the patient hungry and thirsty, even though he has plenty of "fuel."

When INSULIN is given under the supervision of a physician who has analyzed the special requirements of the patient, this sugar is properly assimilated and converted into food and fuel. INSULIN acts as a substitute for the slacker pancreatic system, and maintains a balanced sugar metabolism.

Diabetes occurs at all ages, but most commonly in middle life. Luxurious living and sedentary habits are often important factors in the cause of diabetes, and obesity seems to be present at the onset of a great many cases.

Powell PTA Met In Regular Session On Monday Afternoon

The Powell PTA met in the school auditorium Monday, October 9, at 3:45 p. m. for its regular session. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Sylvan Stucker, president, and after the group sang a song the invocation was given by Superintendent Ross. The new members were welcomed and introduced by the President.

Following a short business meeting in which Miss Bayless was elected secretary to fill the vacancy incurred by Miss Lawson's resignation, a short program was given. Mr. Ross gave an instructive talk on "What the PTA Should Mean to the School." The group was favored by a special number by a quartet composed of Miss Bayless, J. C. Miller, L. V. Coleman, and N. B. Williams, accompanied by Mrs. Johnnie McFadden. This concluded the program and the meeting was declared adjourned.—Reporter.

County PTA Offered Miss Pauline Wright Book Review Friday

The Navarro County Parent-Teacher association sponsored Miss Pauline Wright in reviewing The American Way, at the Junior High School auditorium last Friday afternoon, Oct. 6.

Those who attended the review were exceptionally well pleased with the brilliant manner in which Miss Wright treated this review. We regret deeply that all members of PTA organizations of Navarro County could not attend this program. Although a representative crowd was in attendance, the number would have been considerably greater should we have had time to have given earlier publicity.

The Navarro County PTA Council wishes to express its sincere appreciation to Supt. W. H. Norwood and Principal O. F. Allen for the use of the Junior High School auditorium.

Beautiful flowers were presented to the speaker, Miss Wright, and the Navarro County PTA president, Mrs. J. E. Davis. The flowers were gifts of Burson P. Pearson, Mrs. J. E. Davis, and were presented by Mrs. Jack Roberts.

HIDDEN FORCES IN HUMANITY DETERMINE WORLD'S DESTINY*

Spiritual Struggles Shape Material Events—
Modern Meaning of the Temptation of Jesus
—Problem of a Personal Devil.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Fishing one day from the rocks at the point of our Canadian camp, I saw a great turtle, heavily covered with moss, rise from the green depths to the top of the water. He was unbelievably big. I had plenty of time to estimate his size, and I am sure he was at least three feet long. I have never seen that turtle since, nor any other half his size. Nevertheless, I know, and the truth has been a powerful sermon to me, that hidden below the fair surface of our lovely lake are such hideous things as turtles and snakes, even as in the depths of the human heart lurk reptilian passions that occasionally rise to the light.

Here is a truth about life which most books miss; though the Bible does not blink it. Man has diabolical capacities, devil-born. Every introspective person has shuddered at the terrible possibilities for evil that he finds in himself. The saintliest of Christians knows best his sinful potentialities.

A Glimpse of the Wilderness
Every reader's honest soul responds affirmatively when I say that temptation comes to all of us. Temptation is not an immunity. One of the great spiritual experiences of that perfect life came when, stepping down from the exaltation and ecstasy of His baptism and the Divine approbation that accompanied it, He went apart into the wilderness for forty days to test His soul.

It was a real wilderness, bare, brown, desolate, with beasts of prey lurking about, into which Jesus departed alone. An American clergyman was recently captured by bandits and kept hidden in the caves of this region of waste. From Jerusalem's walls one may look to the south and to the east and behold this mournful desolation of the Wilderness of Judea.

As real as the wilderness was the temptation of Jesus. It was no staged performance, no make-believe.

"As idle as a painted ship upon a painted ocean."

This lonely, hunger-embattled man could have succumbed to temptation, even as you and I. He was sustained by no powers that are not at the command of any one of us. He was "tempted in all points like as we are, yet without sin."

Is There a Devil?
Satan has gone out of fashion in our day; but not out of business. For the word "sin" we have substituted "self-expression." Instead of "resist the devil," we say "obey that impulse" and out of this new philosophy of the liberty of human nature to be its worst as well as its best self has developed such an era of vulgarity, shallowness, sensuality and crime as this western world has never before known. The new world war is a natural sequence of the sinning by nations and by individuals.

There are two horns of this dilemma of the devil. Either we must accept the Bible's explicit teaching of a malign and powerful personality, the perpetual foe of God and of good, "the Prince of the air," who incites us humans to do wrong; or else we must admit that human nature, in its innermost essence, has diabolical tendencies. I, for one, am not willing to admit that my fellow men are so devilish that they can accomplish the evil that is in the world today without the incitement and support of a Satan.

As Billy Sunday used to say, "I know there is a devil, because I've done business with him." Everybody with the slightest capacity for self-analysis knows, with Paul that there are two forces contending for the mastery of his soul. Jesus demonstrated, for all time, that the God in man is mightier than the Satan in man. Out of the wilderness temptation emerges the tremendous truth that God enables man to live on higher levels and to be his best self. A temptation may be an opportunity to rise higher, instead of to sink lower.

The Real Battle Ground
What happens in a person's soul is the only really important concern in life. Our world is askew and at war today because we have adopted a contrary policy. We put external things first. We are daft over possessions. Greedy nations have pushed their national lusts even to the point of war. Individual conceits of success only in terms of acquisition.

All too slowly—with the assent of the psychologists, and the agreement of really thoughtful public persons, have we been perceiving that it is the spiritual side of life which truly matters. Our resources and replenishments must come from God-guided, God-gifted and God-guarded souls. There is no material project before us today that can effect the great change needed to salvage civilization. Only individuals whose lives are yielded to God can do so.

He Would Not Compromise
Three major temptations came to Jesus in the wilderness, and they all spelled compromise. First, and crassest, and freighted with immediacy to a hungry body, was the temptation to turn stones into bread. "A man must live!" is the common cry; although the noblest figures on the panorama of history, with Jesus in the foreground, have shown that it is more important to keep one's soul than to continue to exist. Nobody is fit to live who has not learned to subordinate desire to duty, and to do things more important than life. That is why we have our hall of heroes, patriots and martyrs. That is the truth sustaining millions in this present war.

Second of the temptations of Jesus was to show off His faith, in needless exhibitionism, like the sensational evangelist who publicly let a rattlesnake bite him. God's care is for our real necessities, and not for display. Satan quoted Scripture, but missed the plain intent of his text. Jesus was not to fall into presumptuous sin.

Every public man has met the third of the temptations which confronted Jesus: to achieve his ends by compromise; to turn away from the hard, high road that led to Calvary, and to give the devil a place in his allegiance. What a timely book for politicians and business men could be written up from the hard, high road that led to Calvary, and to give the devil a place in his allegiance. What a timely book for politicians and business men could be written up from the hard, high road that led to Calvary, and to give the devil a place in his allegiance.

The answer of Jesus, which routed the devil, was a clear-cut and unwavering assertion of the sovereignty of God. Only He merits our adoration and our service. When God is given first place in a life, sin and Satan are crowded out.

BLOOMING GROVE SCHOOL NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST

BLOOMING GROVE, Oct. 11.—(Spl.)—The Blooming Grove Lions defeated the Hillsboro Eagles B team last Thursday afternoon by a score of 22-0. The Lions played the best ball a Blooming Grove team has played in the last 10 or 15 games. The defense was strong and the offense was also clicking. Charlie Boyd, Robert Sheppard, Jimmie Carroll, Henry Howard, Bruce Gillen, Ben Brooks and Kenny Bryan all played outstanding games. The next game for the local team will be with Italy this Thursday night on the Italy field. The price of admission there will be 30c for adults, 10c for students.

The additional building on the Blooming Grove school ground is nearing completion at this time and is about ready for the paint. The two rooms in this building are larger than any in the brick building and will be a nice addition to the classroom space. The building will be given a coat of white paint and is covered with a green composition roof. New blackboards and stoves will be installed. The building will be used by the elementary grades.

The four Blooming Grove buses completed the first month of transportation. During this time all of the routes were made completely and practically all of the time the buses were ahead of schedule. Joe and Nick Barham, A. D. Farmer and Ferris Kendall are the drivers.

The first edition of the "Bloom" came out last Friday and consisted of eight pages. The paper followed a different style than has been previously used and many compliments were heard. A new style of paper and a new mimeograph machine are great helps in producing a better paper. The senior class sponsored the first issue under the direction of Miss Mitchell and Miss Douglas. The next issue of the Bloom will appear October 27 and will be sponsored by the junior class.

A list of the failing students is being reviewed this week. Letters will be mailed out to parents this coming week. All parents will receive a letter this first time, stating whether their children are failing or not. This letter will be followed a week later by the report cards for the first seven grades while the high school report cards will be handed out at the end of the first nine weeks. The elementary grades receive their cards six times each year.

DIES COMMITTEE WITNESS TELLS OF GREAT SOVIET PURGE

KRIVITSKY BROKE WITH STALIN AS RESULT DEATHS,
HE CLAIMS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(AP)—General Walter G. Krivitsky, who identified himself as a former officer of the Russian military intelligence, told the Dies committee today that communist party leaders in Germany, Poland and Hungary were recalled to Moscow and shot even though they were not Russian citizens.

The reason was that Joseph Stalin "dictated" them, he said. The slight, 40-year old witness named nine persons who he said had been communist leaders and who later displeased Stalin and not death December 1937.

Some were former members of the German reichstag. "Were these people citizens of Germany," the witness was asked. "Yes," he replied through his interpreter, Boris Shub.

Whispering his answers to Shub, Krivitsky asserted that "the most important Hungarian communist party leader" who was shot in this way was Bela Kun.

Earlier in testimony, Krivitsky declared he was a member of the Russian military intelligence from 1921 until December 1937.

At one point in his listing of names of foreigners executed in Russia, he said: "A leader of the Soviet secret police gave me these facts."

Rhea Whitley, committee counsel, inquired whether it was a correct statement that these foreigners were executed because they had disobeyed the Soviet.

"It can't be put that simply," Krivitsky rejoined. "At this stage of the purge it was not a question of whether they agreed or disagreed. It was simply a matter of Stalin disliking them."

The Germans listed by Krivitsky as having been shot were communist leaders and all but one were former members of the reichstag.

"The number of foreign communist representatives who were recalled to Moscow to be disciplined and punished has never been determined," declared Krivitsky. "It certainly runs into hundreds."

Punishment, he said, "began with demotion and ended with execution."

The 1936-37 purge in Russia, Krivitsky said, resulted in the deaths of 35,000 members of the Red army officers' corps.

In addition, Krivitsky related to

W. H. VISE DIED AT VALLEY FARMS; BURIED BARDWELL

W. H. Vise, age 58 years, died at his home on the Valley Farms Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 8 o'clock at Bardwell cemetery where interment was made. The rites were conducted by Rev. R. B. Ivis.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Cora Vise, Valley Farms; a son, C. H. Vise, Valley Farms; a daughter, Mrs. B. D. Corfield, Powell, a half brother, Walter Vise, Alabama; seven grandchildren, and one great grandchild.

Sutherland McCombs Funeral Home directed the arrangements.

The house committee investigating American activities that Josef Stalin sent from 300,000 to 400,000 persons to imprisonment or exile and "millions of the population to concentration camps."

Krivitsky, a small slight man of 40 with graying brown hair and hazel eyes, said he broke with Stalin over the purge.

The witness testified through the aid of an interpreter. The purge, he said, reached its climax in 1938 and 1937.

"In this climactic period one could not remain in the party without taking part in the purge himself," he continued.

"Stalin demanded that I take an active part in the purge. This I refused to do and I broke with Stalin."

That was in 1937, Krivitsky said. Entering the military intelligence in 1920, he said that from 1921 to 1932 he worked in the chief bureau of the Red army general staff.

Answering questions by Rhea Whitley, committee counsel, about his various connections with the Soviet government, Krivitsky said that in 1923 he was sent to Germany "to organize the German revolution and prepare the manpower for the German Red army."

Holding various positions in the intervening years, he said he became dictator of the war industries institute and then in 1934 returned to general staff intelligence work.

In 1937, he said, he was chief of Soviet military intelligence for Western Europe "which includes Central Europe, particularly Germany."

Rep. Thomas (R-NJ) interrupted the witness to ask whether Stalin completely dominated Earl Browder's American communist party.

"Is Earl Browder the real head of the party here?" "No,"

"Is Stalin the absolute head of the communist party in this country?" "Yes, of course. Stalin gives his instructions to the party here through representatives of communist international."

GALLOGLY

spare no effort to regain custody of the 29-year-old fugitive who traveled day and night through five states to reach Texas.

He said Gallogly was serving two life sentences, one of which he consented to take, when he escaped. Both were assessed for complicity in separate murders, he added.

No Parole in Cases.

LeCraw, explaining Gallogly's record in Georgia, asserted his case was in no way a parallel to that of Robert Elliot Burns, famed writer of "I'm a Fugitive From A Georgia Chain Gang."

"We are rather proud of the fact that Georgia has made more progress in prison reform than any state in the Union," he said.

"We have a model penitentiary, have revised the penal laws and abolished chains. It is a little far fetched to go into the Burns case for a parallel."

He said Burns was serving a term for robbery of a lunch wagon when he fled to New Jersey which state refused to extradite him.

Gallogly he described as a college student of a wealthy family who with a friend went out at night and "apparently only for thrills" would commit robbery with firearms.

"In each of the two cases for which Gallogly was indicted an individual was killed, although he did not fire the shot in either instance."

The Georgia officer said they had all the necessary papers for an extradition hearing and expressed an opinion the fugitive had "no right to freedom." Annual adding he believed any attempts of Gallogly or his counsel to block extradition would be fruitless.

The former Oglethorpe University student, who, at 19, pleaded guilty in the slaying of an Atlanta drug store clerk, and three times has been refused a parole from his life term, has announced he would fight extradition. He is represented by State Senator Jesse Martin of Fort Worth and Harold Young of Dallas.

Pale and nervous he strode into the Dallas sheriff's office Tuesday and surrendered, pleading for "Texas mercy." His pretty wife who accompanied him on his flight is free on $2,500 bail, accused of aiding her socially prominent husband to flee two Georgia prison guards last Friday night.

Gallogly May Be In Texas For Months

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT.

DALLAS, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Fugitive Richard Gallogly, Georgia's problem prisoner who filed a life-term seeking "justice in Texas," has the prospect of being a Texan many months—even though they could be behind cell bars he escaped only six days ago.

Legal action attendant to extradition of prisoners could keep Gallogly and his petite, blonde wife in Texas even if Gov. Wm. O'Daniel grants their extradition to Georgia, attorneys revealed.

The prominent Atlanta deliberately planned his break and flight to fulfill a desire of a life sentence for complicity in a slaying. His wife, Vera, 28-year-old Georgia music teacher, surrendered on a fugitive warrant charging she aided in his escape.

She went free on $2,500 bond. State Senator Jesse Martin, one of Gallogly's attorneys, declined to say definitely how long Gallogly could be held in Texas even if denied a stay of extradition, but admitted that carrying the case to appellate courts could consume "much time."

Georgia officers came to Texas to seek immediate extradition of the couple, united again in a jail embrace last night after Mrs. Gallogly's hearing.

The 29-year-old former Oglethorpe University student, who while in school became involved in the shooting of a drug store clerk, admitted emulation of Robert Elliot Burns, the one-time Georgia convict who authored "I'm a Fugitive From a Georgia Chain Gang." Burns fled to New Jersey, where Governor Harold Hoffman refused to return him to Georgia.

"It's exactly the same type case," said Senator Martin, "only there are more equities in this one. This boy has twice been tried and the last time he hung jury voted 11-1 for acquittal."

Gallogly eventually pleaded guilty and accepted a life sentence, because, he said, state prosecutors agreed to commute a death sentence assessed George Harsh, his companion the night of the slaying.

Gallogly stood with his arm around his wife's shoulder when she said:

"If, when we get out of this trouble, we plan to live in Texas. Everything is so indefinite now. We want to try to do something constructive and useful for both of our lives. I can teach music."

May Seek Bond.

Gallogly only nodded.

Attorneys said Gallogly probably would be kept in jail a few days, but added "we may attempt to get his release on bond."

Gallogly again denied he had used a pistol in his escape from two prison guards, saying he fashioned a pistol from a piece of wood he coated with black shoe polish and later tossed into the Mississippi river in his flight to Texas.

He was with his wife and mother, Mrs. Worth Yankey, when he effected his escape as they drove from an Atlanta hospital to the state prison. Mrs. Gallogly insisted she did not know of her husband's intentions until he drew the piece of wood.

"I tried to persuade him not to do it, but he insisted, he was ill and I came with him because I love him."

Three Killed, 62 Injured In Bus Accident

WAR, W. Va., Oct. 11.—(AP)—A disabled school bus careened from a highway and plunged 150 feet embankment today, killing three students and injuring 62 other persons, some critically.

The dead were identified as Maxine Beavers of Bartley, 18-year-old high school senior; Lucille Mullins of Rayal, and 17-year-old Ernest Wood of Bartley. Physicians held little hope for several other injured.

The accident occurred on a hill a half mile from the school, which draws students from a dozen nearby mining villages.

Three hospitals at Welch were jammed with screaming and frightened children. Physicians called from a half dozen mine communities to aid overtaxed hospital staffs.

The bus driver, H. L. Belcher, who was badly hurt and may lose a foot, said on the front axle gave way just as we started around the turn. The bus began to slip and I could not control it on the narrow road.

The next thing we were tumbling down the hill, in a horrible jumble. When the bus struck the Norfolk and Western railway tracks, I heard screams from inside."

AUTO STRIKE

Richard T. Frankenstein, regional director of the union, said he would file the required five-day strike intention notice with the state labor board today.

The union demands a slower production rate. The corporation has charged the union with perpetrating a "slow-down" on the assembly line, which it said was tantamount to a "sit-down strike."

Each accuses the other of attempting to influence pending negotiations for a new contract.

In reference to the contract, Frankenstein emphasized it would have to include "satisfactory adjustment" of "production standards."

"There is still time, if the corporation is interested in peace on an honorable basis, to work out a solution," Frankenstein said.

"We are not ready to let the union run the plants," retorted Herman L. Weckle, vice president in charge of Chrysler operations. "Production schedules are the function of the management."

W. B. Smotherman and Mrs. Icy Ory, of Corsicana Route 6, were married at the court house Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Judge A. E. Foster.

BREMEN

"I can tell you I have sailed many seas in my life and have seen many ports, but I have experienced nothing like this."

"A load fell from my chest when we on the Bremen saw the coast of Murransk appear out of the mist."

"The old man (Captain Ahrens) brought us through and no matter what you might say about a Nazi captain, he, together with all these clever boys, outwitted the British navy."

He told of delays in New York and how the vessel sailed Aug. 30 with only a few officers knowing where she was going.

"Nobody knew what route would be taken," Post said.

"We were making fun of the fact that everybody in the world was asking 'where is the Bremen?' but the prospect of running the English blockade was not very cheering."

RESPONSIBILITY FOR CONTINUED WAR LAID AT DOOR OF ALLIES

FUEHRER SAYS IF PROF-
FER OF PEACE REFUSED
FIGHT TO BE TO FINISH

By LOUIS F. LOCHNER
BERLIN, Oct. 10.—(P)—

Adolf Hitler today declared that Germany was determined to fight the war to the bitter end if necessary and once more laid the responsibility for continuing the struggle on the Reich's adversaries.

In a 21-minute speech opening the Nazi winter relief campaign, the Fuehrer said he had expressed his country's "readiness for peace," but that if the western allies declined the offer, the fight would go on.

"The winter relief work, he demanded, must attain results never before achieved, not only because great tasks lie ahead created by the war, but also because the world must be shown that the German people are not a nation of disunion within the Reich as unfounded.

Germans must make common cause, the Fuehrer said, "in battle, in victory and finally in peace."

"Germany must once and for all convince the world that it must be allowed to live undisturbed within its own living space."

Poland Demolished
In a few weeks the state which thought it could threaten German interests most innocently (Poland) has been demolished—thanks to our soldiers and our military strategy," the Fuehrer declared.

"What the future may bring we do not know. But of this we are certain: No power on earth ever again will be able to force Germany to her knees."

"They will not defeat us militarily, economically or psychically."

Tremendous cheering greeted this declaration, delivered in a speech in Berlin's huge sportsplatz opening the annual Nazi winter relief campaign.

"Before us stands the eternal life of our people," he said. "Nothing can shake us. Nothing can bring us to despair. On this contrary whatever the other world may choose, that it will get."

"The way ahead of us can not be more difficult than that behind us. In pursuing this way we are strengthened by the fact that we have achieved a community of spirit in our nation."

Readiness For Peace
The Fuehrer, referring to his Reichstag speech of last Friday, said he had given "expression to our readiness for peace."

"Let no one henceforth think of the greatness of his sacrifice," but of the sacrifices of those who gave their all," he said. "Compared to their sacrifices those at home are nothing."

"This year's relief must exceed everything hitherto achieved," he added. "We want to show peoples abroad that silly attempts to find evidence of lack of unanimity among us are vain. — we want to make them respect our constitution."

"We want to bring evidence of what we can endure and accomplish, the Fuehrer declared and then added sarcastically:

"It is to be hoped that others cease to as well."

"The decision of peace or war lies with others. We simply have a grim determination to fight."

"The day must come when Germany without being interfered with by others, can within its living space, mould its own destiny and partake of the goods of the world to which it is entitled."

"In this spirit, I open winter relief work of 1939-1940."

Hitler received a great burst of cheers when he entered the hall.

Deprived of Citizenship
BERLIN, Oct. 10.—(P)—Prince Ernst von Starhemberg, exiled former vice-chancellor of Austria and former leader of the disbanded Austrian fascist army, the Heimwehr, was deprived of German citizenship today by the Nazi government and his property was confiscated.

(The prince, who is now in France, recently asked permission of the French National Assembly to organize an Austrian brigade to fight Germany. The offer was taken under advisement.)

(Von Starhemberg has been living in France with Fritz Mandl, former munitions maker and former husband of Hedy Lamarr, the actress.)

LARGE PART TEXAS VISITED BY RAINS AND COOL WEATHER

DOWNPOURS GREAT BENEFIT TO GRAIN CROPS AND PASTURES

By The Associated Press.

Rains ranging up to 4.35 inches were reported today from widely scattered Texas points. The downpours were a great benefit to grain crops and pastures and in nearly all instances were followed by cool, pleasant weather.

Sherman had 2.2 inches of rain yesterday and Laredo, 3.4 two and one-half inches early today.

Additional showers were forecast tonight for Southeast Texas but tomorrow was expected to be generally fair.

Rainfall yesterday or early today included: McKinney 4.35 inches, adding the last planting of oats; Navarro county, 1.22 inches, first general rain there since July 14; San Antonio, traces; Austin, 1.4 inch; Fort Worth, .55 inch bringing considerably cooler weather; Paris, 1.19 inches, first rain since August 26; Tyler, .84 inch, first appreciable rain in month and a boon to roses and garden crops; Kerrville, 2.18 inches, breaking severe drought; Ellis county, one-half inch.

Houston reported unseasonably hot weather, with yesterday's maximum 89. Three-tenths of an inch of rain, however, had fallen over a two-day period.

Farmers and stockmen over a wide area smiled as they recounted benefits from soaking rains that broke a damaging drought.

Two Inches in Dallas
The rains spread out over the upper half of the state with a fall of more than two inches visiting Dallas which had not received appreciable precipitation since last April.

General rains amounting to two inches were reported in numerous West Texas places.

Wheat farmers in the Panhandle and portions of West Texas said the moisture would enable them to begin planting their 1940 crop. The moisture came too late to be of much value to feed crops and cotton.

Among good rains were those at Paducah, measuring 2.28 inches; Gainesville, 1.1 inches, and .91 of an inch at Stamford.

Rains varying from three-fourths of an inch to two and a half inches fell on the South Plains around Lubbock.

Men said grass would be aided materially. Late sorghums were benefited.

General rains fell in the San Angelo and Abilene sections. Stockmen said improved ranges would lower feed bills.

INJUNCTION DENIED
SENATOR HILL STOP
REPAYMENT OF LOAN

AUSTIN, Oct. 10.—(P)—District Judge Ralph W. Yarborough today denied a temporary injunction against repayment of loans by the old age assistance administration and ordered trial of the suit on its merits Oct. 30.

AUSTIN, Oct. 10.—(P)—A mass of legal argument today enveloped the suit of Senator Joe Hill of Henderson seeking to enjoin repayment of loans by the old age assistance administration and prevent a shut in October sessions.

By agreement of attorneys and District Judge Ralph Yarborough, initial payment of $138,000 plus $18,700 interest, authorized by the legislature as of today, was moved from 2 p. m. until 2 p. m.

Loan warrants issued by the state will be paid, unless an injunction is granted, at the offices of the state treasurer.

Hill sought to prevent liquidation of $2,300,000 borrowed from a Dallas bank by the pension administration to keep grants at a level required by statute.

His petition asserted repayment and denial of full grants to recipients was illegal and unconstitutional because the legislature was not permitted to create a debt against the state in excess of $200,000.

Meanwhile no announcement was forthcoming from the office of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel on the status of a poll he said he was conducting to determine sentiment among legislators as to the possibility of a special session to consider taxation for financing pensions adequately.

ADMINISTRATION WON INITIAL VICTORY IN NEUTRALITY VOTING

MOTION TO SEPARATE SHIP-
PING PROVISION AND EM-
BARGO FAILED PASS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.

(P)—Administration forces in the senate defeated today a motion to separate shipping provisions of the neutrality bill from the arms embargo repeal issue.

The vote was announced as 65 against to 25 for the motion.

There was a division of opinion among leaders as to whether the administration's victory could be counted a test of strength on the neutrality bill itself—the most controversial section of which is that providing repeal of the present embargo on arms.

Majority Leader Barkley of Kentucky told reporters he regarded the vote as a measuring stick but Senator Borah (R-Idaho), a leader of the opposition in the neutrality fight, said it could not be so considered.

The motion to split up the bill was made by Senator Tobey (R-NH). He proposed to send the measure back to the foreign relations committee with instruction to write two bills—the arms embargo, a move recommended by President Roosevelt.

Wanted Immediate Action
Tobey wanted immediate action on the bill, providing that which prohibit American vessels from carrying any good to warring countries. He contended that procedure would not forestall early action on repeal of the arms embargo, a move recommended by President Roosevelt.

"Leaders in the senate and the country have agreed that the cause which drew us into the last European conflict were the seizure and sinking of American merchant vessels carrying cargoes to belligerents," Tobey asserted.

"There are subtle, unseen forces working constantly to draw us into this European war. No action that we can take will be more discouraging to such forces than the action which is contemplated in my motion, to take our ships out of the war zones immediately, thereby eliminating a recurrence of the causes which drew us into the World war."

Earlier democratic members of the senate foreign relations committee said they would meet soon to consider relaxation of the restrictions on shipping in the neutrality measure.

To Offer Amendment
Senator George (D-Ga) said an amendment probably would be proposed to permit American vessels to visit Australia, New Zealand and Canada. He added that "we may be able to ease the restrictions so that our ships can operate in zones which are not dangerous."

As now phrased the bill would prohibit American ships from carrying goods to any belligerents or their possessions. Shipping interests have expressed vigorous opposition to that restriction.

Senator Johnson (D-Colo) said he would hold up for the time being his motion for a three day recess of congress to give the President a free hand to make a move toward bringing about peace in Europe.

"I don't think today is a good time to bring the motion up," Johnson said. "We ought to wait to see what Chamberlain and other European statesmen have to say about the prospects of peace."

As the senate convened, Senator Schwelbensch (D-Wash) put into the record a number of newspaper editorials discussing the relationship between Russia and Finland.

"I would like to ask the question," Schwelbensch said, "whether or not senators who propose retention of the arms embargo want to become an ally of communist Russia against Finland, Sweden, and Norway?"

oil imported into Texas if Governor W. Lee O'Daniel calls a special session of the legislature.

"I'm in favor of this action," Sadler said, "and I think there is going to be a special session. The only way we can stop this during the Mexican crude in Texas is to slap a tariff on it."

MRS. LUTCHER STARK
DIED LAST NIGHT AT HOME IN ORANGE

ORANGE, Oct. 12.—(P)—Mrs. Nita Hill Stark, former national grand secretary of Pi Beta Phi society, died last night. She was 40 years old.

Funeral services will be held here tomorrow.

Mrs. Stark was born in Austin in 1890. She was graduated from the University of Texas, and with her husband, had made many noteworthy gifts to the institution.

She was one of the most enthusiastic admirers of the university's football team and only recently had equipped the lounge room of Hill dormitory, a new home for Texas university athletes.

The dormitory was named for her father, Dr. Homer Hill, who was for many years physician of Longhorn athletic teams.

Mrs. Stark served as national secretary of Pi Beta Phi for several years, winning in June 1938 because of ill health. She also had served as province president and as vice-president.

Her philanthropies were extensive. Because of her interest in young womanhood Baylor university in 1936 conferred on her an honorary degree of doctor of laws.

Her husband and two sons, Homer and Bill, 16, were survivors.

SECRETARY OF STATE TOM L. BEAUCHAMP NAMED HIGH COURT

SPECULATION NEW DEVELOP-MENT OVER NAMING SUC-CESSOR TO BEAUCHAMP

AUSTIN, Oct. 10.—(P)—Governor W. Lee O'Daniel today appointed Secretary of State Tom L. Beauchamp a judge of the court of criminal appeals to succeed W. C. Morrow, resigned.

The appointment was for the remainder of Morrow's term ending January 1, 1941. Morrow, presiding judge of the court for many years and 80 years old, retired. Beauchamp's appointment will be effective immediately. Other judges of the court are F. L. Hawkins and Harry N. Graves.

It had been rumored for some time that Beauchamp was in line for another appointment and he was promptly mentioned for the vacancy on the court of criminal appeals when Morrow stepped down.

Speculation developed immediately as to whom O'Daniel would name secretary of state. One name suggested was that of William J. Lawson, the governor's secretary.

If Lawson should be appointed Governor O'Daniel would be following a precedent set by Governor James V. Allred, who promoted his secretary, Edward Clark, to the post.

Salary of the secretary of state is $6,000 a year while that of secretary to the governor is $3,600.

Beauchamp said he expected to take the oath as judge within a few days.

Beauchamp formerly was county judge of Lamar county for four years. He long practiced law in Paris and Tyler.

Morrison Quits
As Secretary Of Labor Federation

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 12.—(P)—The American Federation of Labor received today the resignation of its secretary-treasurer, Frank Morrison, and heard from Homer Martin a declaration that the real purpose of John Lewis' congress of industrial organizations was "to destroy the American labor movement."

In his first speech to a federation gathering since his faction of the United Auto Workers International switched from CIO to AFL, Martin renewed many of his "dictatorial" charges against Lewis, asserting the CIO chief held the greatest "contempt for autonomous rights of CIO affiliates."

In announcing his retirement, Morrison said:

"All circumstances considered, it will be helpful to the trade union movement at this time."

Morrison, 79, has been secretary since 1938.

Trade union leaders predicted George Meany, president of the New York State Federation of Labor and members of the plumbers union, would succeed him.

HEALTH, BEAUTY AND POISE

HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR PERSONALITY
By VERONICA DENGEL

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

N. B. writes: am 16 and the only make-up I use is powder and lipstick. I find that when I use soap or facial cream my face becomes so dry and rough but when I use plain water it is as smooth as satin. Will you please give me any advice you have on this subject.

Your skin is probably quite dry, and you should correct your diet to overcome this condition. Be sure that you drink six glasses of water a day, between meals. And try to increase the amounts of the various fats in your diet. Creams, especially the rich emollient kind, would be of great benefit to you. Plain water, I am afraid, is not enough to give your skin sufficient cleansing. You will have to try different creams until you find the one that agrees with you. You should not put powder on without some kind of a foundation, an oil cream, used sparingly, and not the "vanishing" kind.

M. B. tells me that her little niece refuses to eat the food given to her, and only wants lots of ice cream. "She is running every minute when awake. She has her nails, and chews everything, even the hair brush. She is much underweight. Her mother has taken her to two different doctors, but there is no improvement." The fact that the child chews on every object she can get shows that she is not getting the proper elements needed for growth. Have you followed the directions given by the doctor. Unless you do, you can scarcely expect any improvement. You evidently are too lenient with the child. Naturally she will follow her own inclination and take the food that tastes best to her. On the other hand, the doctor has examined her, and has probably given you exact instructions for feeding her. He knows exactly what minerals she needs, and has told you in what proportions to feed them, much better than I could do. Therefore, you should prepare her meals, and set them before her at meal-time. If she refuses to eat, take the food away. Be firm about this. Do not allow her to have anything else, no matter how she cries. Children learn very early in life how to get around us, you know, and one of their best ways is to scream for what they want, knowing that we will give them almost anything to keep peace. When her next mealtime comes, set the food before her, and you will find that she will eat it. Of course she may be able to hold out longer, but on no account give her ice cream until she has finished the other food. This is the only way you can train her. It is also very important that you do this because her early years will determine whether you will have an obedient, healthy child who will be no trouble to you, or a thoroughly spoiled one, who will cause you no end of anxiety. A hungry child will always eat what is given her, provided it is attractively served and well prepared. Please do not let the child govern you, and use more discipline with her.

I have printed your letter because so many mothers have the same problem, and do not know how to handle it. Our children often stop us when we want to train them, but it is very necessary that they get this discipline when they are very young.

PLANNING OF FARM IN ORDER GET PROPER BALANCE BETWEEN CROPS IS CONSERVATION JOB

The planning of a farm to get the proper balance between food crops, fibre crops and livestock products is another one of the many things considered by the soil conservation service in establishing a complete long time agricultural system, reports technicians of the soil conservation service.

It is highly important that there be a proper balance between crops and livestock if the farmer's income is to be on the most stable bases. The trend of the last few years toward a diversified system of farming blends well with a complete soil and water conservation program.

It is a well established fact that the soil is depleted of its fertility to a great extent if the same crop is grown on the same soil year after year. But still a greater evil arises when this practice is used, in that in most cases erosion takes its toll in no small amount of soil and plant nutrients. This is especially true of continuous cropping of clean tilled crops such as cotton and corn. On the other hand, where a system of rotation is practiced with soil conserving crops included, less soil and plant food is lost.

Not only does this proper balance save our most important natural resource—the soil, but it also places the farmer in a more stable condition should one of his major enterprises fail to bring in the anticipated net income. Wood crops such as corn, oats, orchards, gardens and others, will provide food along with the fibre crop cotton, and with a sufficient number of livestock to consume a part of the feed the farmer is in a position to best utilize his time. By properly managing his livestock the soil can be built to a higher fertility through crop residue and barnyard manure without sacrificing any soil loss and in many cases, any net income.

No two farms have the same identical problem but the same general broad points of planning may be applied to every farm. The farmer's needs and desires are always considered and the soil conservation service in its planning make the weak and the strong points known to the co-operating farmer and plans with him the number of acres in food crops, fibre crops, and the number as well as the kind of livestock that best fits into his particular case.

Many co-operating farmers report that since they have developed a complete soil and water conservation program on their farms they have been able to utilize their time and every acre to a fuller extent and that it has enabled them to maintain a higher living standard. This proper balancing of crops and livestock certainly merits consideration when planning for a long time system of agriculture.

Officials in charge of the boys' baby beef project in Navarro county during the past year reported Wednesday that an average price of $10.50 per hundred pounds was paid for the 155 animals included in the auction last Friday as a feature of the Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show.

Five of the boys sold their calves direct to packer agents outside the auction ring, and six did not enter their animals for sale. Officials pointed out the average price was well above the market quotations.
